A Fish Eye's View Through Time

Mattapoisett's Swordfish Weathervane Harbors Secrets

Like the Ned's Point lighthouse and the Shipyard Park pavilion, one of the most recognizable landmarks in the town of Mattapoisett is the life-sized swordfish weathervane which sits perched at the end of Long Wharf. Through the long and hot summer days it gazes indifferently out at the activity in the harbor, pointing its tell-tale nose in whatever direction the wind is blowing.

But what most local residents never realized is that the swordfish has been harboring secrets for the last 75 years ... in fact it contains two small time capsules which were placed inside its hollow belly at different times by those who built and later did major renovations on the historic structure.

Like the scene in Jaws when Richard Dreyfuss and Roy Scheider emptied the stomach contents of a Great White shark, the crew at Brownell Boat Yard, Inc. — who annually do touch-up and refurbishing work on the landmark for the town — discovered the two time capsules while beginning a major renovation project to repair a rotted section of the swordfish's underbelly.

The first capsule consisted of a small pharmaceutical vial containing a handwritten sheet of paper stamped with the letterhead: "The Piers, Mattapoisett." The note was dated November 29, 1920. It offers a concise history of how the wooden weathervane came to be, and who the key players were in getting the fish carved and built.

"We've done repair work on the swordfish every year for the town, and this is the first time we discovered the time capsules," said Linda Brownell Shea, the President of Brownell Boat Yard, Inc.

At least this is the first time in the last twenty years.

The second time capsule which was found hidden inside the swordfish was placed there in 1976 — the last time a major repair effort was undertaken. Inside were photographs dated April, 1976 of the Brownell Boat Yard crew who were responsible for renovating the weathervane. The crew included John Clark, Phillip Mello, Tom Borges, David Todd Jr., William Field, and Tom Brownell.

"I didn't even know my brother was involved with the (1976) time capsule," Ms. Brownell said. "But we were glad to find both (capsules) intact."

According to what limited information is contained in the 1920 time capsule, the swordfish was modelled after an actual fish (an estimated 560-pounder) caught about five miles off of Noman's Land Island in Massachusetts by J. Gilbert Hinsdale aboard the schooner Whistler. The wood from which it was crafted was first growth cedar taken from an area near the Rochester/Mattapoisett town line. The weathervane was built to be placed atop Mr. Hinsdale's boat house, which was once located on Water Street in Mattapoisett — not very far from where it now sits at the end of Long Wharf.

Apparently, Mr. Hinsdale had the foresight to place a small time capsule in the weathervane upon its completion in August of 1920, detailing the origin of the "fish tale," so-to-speak. That capsule was discovered by the renovation crew in 1976, who made their own contribution to history by adding updated photographs, marking the end of another era in the swordfish's life.

For the last eighteen years or so, the annual repair work has been delegated to Manny Costa, a New Bedford resident and shop foreman at Brownell Boat Yard, Inc. He noted that they've usually done minor cosmetic work each year, but this year was the first time it needed major refinishing since he's taken over the project.

"The whole bottom section was rotting from the inside out ... and it was literally soaked with water," Mr. Costa said. "(This year) I'll be rebuilding a portion of the bottom with foam and fiberglass and will clear coat the entire (weathervane)."

Mr. Costa spoke fondly of his annual "side hobby," and added how he's looking forward to putting the landmark back into tip-top shape. "It will probably take about eight hours all together to repair," he said. "The weather really does a job on it ... between the hot sun beating on it for twelve hours a day and the snow and rain."

He joked that the swordfish — which he only refers to as "she" or "her" — has become like an old friend whom he visits once a year. "I'll do some work on her every day if there's nothing else to do ... or if I need someone to talk to," he said.

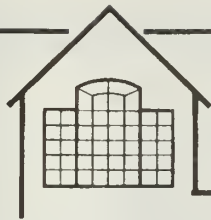

Mr. Costa said the renovation is slated to be completed by May 1 — well ahead of the usual Memorial Day deadline. At that point Ms. Shea said it would only be proper to keep the chain going by placing a new time capsule inside the swordfish along with its 1920 and 1976 counterparts.

"We already decided that we would be adding our own (time capsule) when it's finished," she said. "I think it's the best way to keep a record of the work that's been done."

Selectmen Chairman John N. DeCosta with the Phillippine Liberation Medal and the Phillippine Republic Presidential Unit Citation Badge awarded to him by the Armed Forces of the Phillippines.

In a formal letter from the government, it was stated: "The Government of the Republic of the Phillippines and the Filipino people greatly appreciate (John DeCosta's) role in helping us preserve the peace and freedom we now enjoy."

Chairman DeCosta was greatly surprised and honored by the award, which he proudly accepted.

There being no further matters to come before the board, the Selectmen voted to adjourn for the evening at 7:45 pm.

Rochester Selectmen's Meeting

February 21, 1995

A regular meeting of the Rochester Board of Selectmen was called to order on Tuesday, February 21 at 7:00 pm by Chairman David L. Hughes. Also present were Selectman Lorraine Roy Hawkes, Selectman Michael Murphy, and Administrative Secretary Shirley Ferreira.

After approving the minutes of the February 13 meeting, the board met with Mark Rasmussen of the Buzzards Bay Action Committee (BBAC), David Janick of the Buzzards Bay Project (BBP), and Conservation Commission Agent Laurell J. Farinon to discuss the town's needs for the upcoming year.

Mr. Janick noted that in the past, the BBP has enabled towns to successfully garner grants for Stormwater Remediation Projects, Herring Restoration, and Nitrogen Management. Likewise, Mr. Rasmussen said the BBAC could assist in helping the town prepare a conservation restriction by-law and update its Open Space Plan.

"(Rochester) is working on an Open Space Plan now, and it's very important to a town like Rochester which has a lot to protect," Ms. Farinon said.

The other recommendation Mr. Rasmussen had was to designate a waste oil recycling center in town so people could deposit their used motor oil. He recommended a central location like Town Hall or the Highway Barn.

"I think it's a good idea, but only if you can ensure that the oil coming in isn't contaminated," said Selectman Murphy. "Otherwise, if it's sitting around in a barrel and gets contaminated with water or anti-freeze, the town will have to pay to have it removed. That's gets pretty expensive."

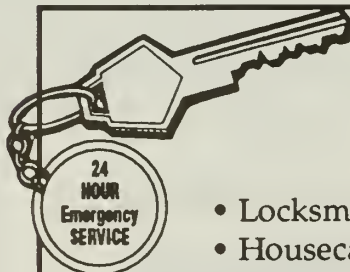

Mr. Rasmussen agreed to check into the liability factor with existing towns which have an oil recycling center already in use.

At 7:15 pm Scott Weigel, Albert Weigel, and John Morse of the Fire Department came before the board to present an article for the upcoming Annual Town Meeting warrant allocating $182,000 to purchase a new 1250 gallon-per-minute pumper/tanker to replace an existing 1962 vehicle.

"We want to gradually replace our old and outdated vehicles," Mr. Morse said. "This will replace another old piece of equipment ... like we did last year with the new engine."

Selectman Hawkes wanted to know if the money would be taken from available funds or put on the warrant as an override. The men said whatever funding could be allocated. Chairman Hughes noted that they could accept the article as written, and discuss the best source for the funding with the Finance Committee prior to Town Meeting.

On the same note, Chairman Hughes informed the three men that the Board of Selectmen was considering donating the 1952 Ward LaFrance engine — which was replaced this past year with a new pumper/tanker — back to Fairhaven as a museum and parade piece. "I'd like to give it back to Fairhaven outright," Chairman Hughes said. "They originally sold it to us for next to nothing ... and I think it would be nice to see it kept on as a piece of both Rochester's and Fairhaven's history."

But Selectman Hawkes thought they should consider getting at least a little money for the outdated vehicle. "Are we that flush with money that we can't even get a little for the (truck)?" she asked.

Her fellow Selectmen, however, decided via majority vote to donate the vehicle to Fairhaven and agreed to contact the Fairhaven Fire Chief to pick it up at his earliest convenience.

At 7:30 pm the board met with the Community Action Statement Committee (CASC) to review the newly-completed Community Action Statement for the Town of Rochester. CASC member Fred Underhill noted that the committee had worked to come up with the statement in response to the Marion/Mattapoisett/Rochester Housing Co-Op's request in order to qualify for federal grants.

After making some minor corrections in the document, the board unanimously voted to accept and approve it as submitted.

Under incoming correspondence for the week, the board received certification of their Free Cash as of July 1, 1994 in the amount of $528,726.

Acushnet Saw Mills also sent notification of its intent to remove two parcels of land totalling .15 acres from the Chapter 61 restriction. The land will be used to install a septic system and is of no vital value to the town.

Town Accountant Claudette Coutu next sent a memo regarding two outstanding bills with Conway Associates totalling $666.38. Ms. Coutu informed the board that until these bills are paid, the town's account will be put on hold.

Chief of Communications Scott Ashworth next submitted his letter of resignation, effective April 30, 1995, after 15 years with the Communications Department — five of those as Chief Dispatcher. Mr. Ashworth thanked the board for having the opportunity to serve the town, and noted that he is leaving to pursue full-time work with the Fire Department.

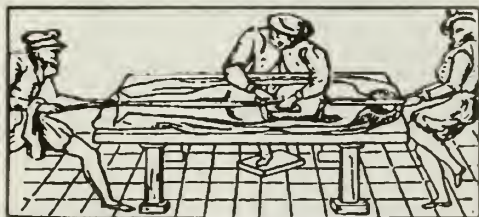

"There are several people in the department that expressed interest in becoming the next Chief Dispatcher," Mr. Ashworth wrote. "I have the utmost confidence that the person chosen will do a fine job. I strongly recommend that you choose someone from within the department for Chief Dispatcher."

Selectman Hawkes asked that those within the Communications Department interested in the Chief Dispatcher's position to submit a copy of their resume to the Board of Selectmen, along with any pertinent information concerning their training with the E-911 and NCIC computer systems. The board also agreed to accept Mr. Ashworth's resignation with regret and asked that a letter be sent to him thanking him for his past work.

The New England Institute of Law Enforcement Management submitted confirmation that Police Chief Walter V. Denham successfully completed the three-week session of the Command Training Program on February 10. "It is our belief that Chief Denham, through the dedication and diligence he displayed during the course of the program, has strengthened his knowledge of supervision, communications, management and human relations," the letter stated.

The board also received notification of return dividends from the Massachusetts Interlocal Insurance Agency (MIIA) in the amount of $2,470 for Workers' Compensation. SEMASS also submitted their estimate for fiscal 1996 in the amount of $1.9 million.

The board also signed and approved: a bill from Philip N. Beauregard, Esq., in the amount of $75; a legal invoice from Kopelman and Paige, P.C. in the amount of $492.97; and various outstanding bills and invoices from the Fire Department which were not approved for payment by Fire Chief Joseph Clapp. "I'm concerned about paying some of these bills so we don't incur any more late fees," said Chairman Hughes. "Either we decide to pay them, or they're not going to get done."

Selectman Hawkes also moved that the board simply pay all bills and invoices from this point on addressed to the Fire Department and/or Fire Chief. The motion was approved via unanimous vote.

Chairman Hughes asked to hold on the Police Department Salaries and Wages and Benefit Coverage budgets for one more week so they could review both with the Finance Committee.

There being no further matters to come before the board, they unanimously voted to adjourn for the evening at 8:25 pm.

SECOND HOME AS REPLACEMENT

The rollover tax break allows you to sell your principal residence and defer paying any taxes on the profit as long as you buy another home that costs as much as the one you sold. If you already own a second home and plan to move into that as a replacement, you can take the same deferral as long as you purchased it within two years before or after the sale.

If you've owned that second home LONGER than the two-year envelope and desire to rehab it, can you deduct the cost of the new construction from the profit on the sale of your present home?

No matter how long you have actually owned the second home, you need only start "reconstructing" it within the two-year period to qualify for the home-sale break. Major reconstruction of the second home is treated the same as the purchase of a new home.

Each dollar spent in reconstructing the second home cuts into the amount of taxable income you receive from selling the old home.

Call Bob at Fisher & Rocha, Inc., 758-6738 or stop by our office at 17 Fairhaven Road, Mattapoisett. We're happy to help you!

TAX STRATEGIES

Strategy #1

Don't overlook deductible mortgage points.

If you recently bought a home or refinanced a home mortgage, you should know the rules governing the deductibility of mortgage points.

You may deduct points paid on home mortgages in the tax year you pay them. In addition, you, as the buyer, may deduct points paid on your behalf by the seller of the home.

If you refinance, you cannot deduct points in the year of refinancing; instead, you deduct the points pro rata over the life of the loan. If you refinance a second time, you may deduct on that year's tax return the balance of undeducted points from your first refinancing.

For details on when points are deductible, and for other tax-cutting assistance, contact...

Tri-Town "Men Who Cook"

Scoutmaster and Chairman of the Rochester Boy Scout Troop Committee David True will again be among more than 300 "men who cook" and serve the sumptuous buffet offered by the New Bedford Women's Center at its ninth annual "Men Who Cook" fundraiser, which will be held on Saturday, March 4 from 5:00 to 9:00 pm at the Greater New Bedford Vocational Technical High School.

A person with total recall of favorite recipes, Mr. True earned his way through college working in restaurants, moving from short order to broiler man. Since that time, the Rochester resident cooks for his family, adding new recipes to his repertoire by visiting the best restaurants in whatever cities his work takes him.

Although the event is something of a tradition in the area, this year it is charting a new course by using a theme for the first time ("A Cruise With Men Who Cook"), as well as involving the chefs at the grassroots level of organizing the event, and offering two seatings — one between 5:00 and 7:00 pm, and a second between 7:00 and 9:00 pm.

The cruise theme has been used because this

Sippican Art Exhibit

Sixth graders at Sippican Elementary School currently have an art exhibit on display at the Marion Art Center through the end of February. The students have presented impressionist works, inspired by their study of Impressionism, the first modern art movement, and the Dutch artist Vincent Van Gogh in a variety of media.

Sippican art teacher Phyllis Kantarowski had planned to have an art exhibit this year, but she hadn't decided on the content. "When I saw the results of the sixth grade study," she said, "I knew these (works) would be going to the art show."

The Marion Art Center is on the corner of Main and Pleasant Streets in the heart of the village of Marion. Admission is FREE.

Childhood Needs Assessment

Recently, a survey was mailed to all families in the tri-town area with children aged eight and younger. This survey is part of an effort by the Tri-Town Early Childhood Advisory Council to update information on the needs of families raising young children. In particular, the survey asks about child care, education, recreation, health and social service programs.

The Tri-Town Early Advisory Council serves as a forum for issues related to young children and their families in Marion, Mattapoisett and Rochester. It is hoped that this survey will reveal unmet needs in the community. Results will be shared with appropriate programs and agencies with the goal of enhancing accessible programs and services for tri-

REMEMBER, A GOOD PLAN MAKES A WORLD OF DIFFERENCE...

Last year's advertisers have all had their renewal forms mailed to them. However, if a form is irretrievably lost in a sea of holiday wrappings and January paperwork, a phone call to 748-2542 will alert the editors, John and Claire Russell, to send a new one.

There is still room and time for new advertisers. The book provides constant local exposure and rates are reasonable. Anyone interested should call the above number.

Marion, Mattapoisett and Rochester are each listed separately in the Telephone Directory and each section includes a town map. The book also lists important community resource numbers and appropriate state and national political addresses. The directory's advertisers are included, free of charge, in a classified section. Small businesses and services may buy classified listings independent of an advertisement.

and crutches for a day, are blindfolded and given guides for half a day, and participate in the Blind Trust Walk. Speech, occupational and physical therapists talk to the classes. Christie LoCicero, a deaf student from ORR High School, and her interpreter will speak to the classes and Ray Collins, who is blind, will be bringing his seeing eye dog to class. Two parents of children with disabilities — one of whom is a third grader with cerebral palsy — will also visit the classes.

Children are given homework assignments about each day's events. The curriculum is carried into specialists' classes as well — for instance, the children had to create clay figures with their eyes closed in art class. The curriculum was created several years ago through the efforts of Volunteers at Sippican Elementary (VASE). It has expanded over the years and now continues over several weeks. Classroom teachers are more involved than ever before. They use the topic in many classroom assignments, such as reading.

The Medicine Chest is designed to dispense medication four times a day for a full week. It is highlighted Morning, Noon, Evening, and Bedtime.

The unique feature of the Medicine Chest is that the individual days are removable, making it possible to take the days needed during a short trip away from home.

The covers are designed to fit tightly for medication security and each day can be removed for easy access.

Use of the Medicine Chest quickly answers the question "Did I or did I not take my medication?" Patients become confused when a number of drugs must be taken in different time frames. The Medicine Chest helps eliminate this.
